

The Wolf

Aelian says "He is the sharpest sighted animal, and sees even by night when there is no moon, and when there is darkness still he sees. Therefore the reason of the night in which he alone receives light of the peculiarly his nature ~~has been~~ has been called luxopos. And it seems ~~something~~ some calls the night anoxia ανοξία [Quod H 433] in which the wolves travel seeing. Blotortes said:
